SUBSIDIZED PRESS HELPING JOHNSON

Appointed Twenty-two Editors and Newspaper Writers to Fat Jobs to Aid Him to Stay in Office

Commenting on recent speeches of Governor Johnson, in which the executive has sought to convince the voters that he has not used the power and influence of his office to build up a political machine, Walter R. Bacon, chairman of the Republican State Central Executive Committee, said yesterday that such statements on the part of Johnson were so palpably a misrepresentation of the facts, that he deemed it necessary, in fairness to the rank and file of the citizens of the State, to whom the real facts in such matters are usually inaccessible, to call attention to some of the ramifications of the Johnson "system."

"It is a matter of general information that Johnson has constructed one of the most ruthless political machines this country has ever known," said Bacon, "but the average person is without detailed knowledge of its workings. Every one knows that never in the history of the State has the appointive power of the Governor been so much abused; never has there been such wholesale distribution of important public offices as political rewards for past activity or as an incentive to future political work."

A Government by One Man.
California has had for the last three and a half years a government of, by, and for one man; and that man has had but one thought in mind, has sought the accomplishment of but one object, i. e., the furthering of his own political ambitions. Every person who is directly or remotely connected with the present administration, is a servant of Johnson, not of the people. From the heads of the highest commissions to the lowliest janitor, appointments have been made with service to Johnson the consideration, instead of service to the State.

"It is incumbent upon the Republican party to rid the State of this oppressive and expensive machine, as it has been the lot of that party to cleanse California of other forms of political evil. However, in dealing with Johnson, it has no novice, but an adroit juggler of words and facts, whose selfish ambition permits him to stop at nothing, not even the bartering of the honor of the Republican party, which elected him, for the vice-presidential nomination of a third party, which, having sprouted like a mushroom overnight, is now willing away after a brief ephemeral existence."

"True to the instincts of a self-centered egotist, Johnson has succeeded in lining up the support of a portion of the press of the State by methods peculiarly his own. Realizing the power wielded by the newspapers, those potent molders of public opinion, he has scattered appointments among newspaper editors and proprietors with a lavish hand. Indeed, he has carried this part of the construction of his machine so far that the names of the holders of the principal appointive offices of the present administration look like a directory of the third party newspapers of the State."

Calling the Roll.
"For the information of the people generally, so that they may have some idea of the extent of the Johnson organization, a list of newspaper men who are now holding office under Johnson's administration, and who are not only supporting and defending him in their papers, but are, in many instances, stamping the State for him, is herewith appended:

Chester H. Rowell, Fresno Republican, Panama-Pacific Exposition Commission.

George C. Pardee, Oakland Enquirer, Conservation Commission.

Ralph W. Bull, Humboldt Times (Eureka), Conservation Commission.

John S. Chambers, Sacramento Bee, State Controller.

V. S. McClatchy, Sacramento Bee, Reclamation Board.

"POLISHED PEBBLES" WILL PLEASE LOCAL PUBLIC

It is reported that Mr. Carrington's new operetta, "Polished Pebbles," which is to be put on at the Alhambra November 6 and 7 by the students of the high school, is getting to be very popular. A number of seat sales have been made. Each fall the high school puts on a musical number and the one this time is likely to prove the most popular of all of them. The cast follows: Mrs. O'Brien, Marie McAuliffe, Rosalie, her niece, Miriam McCredy, Winnie and Millie, her daughters, Lorraine Dickey and Hazel Lamb, Uncle Bob, B. E. Myers, Mr. Gabbie, town character, Stanley Wood, Martha, country girl, Rose Lanfear, Nick, country boy, Oscar Oleson. Also, chorus of Sunbonnet girls and Overall boys.

The tickets, which will be on sale soon will be good for reserved seats for either night. While, of course, a two-night production will give everyone a good seat, one ought not delay too long making reservations.

INVESTORS IN SUIT CLUBS HARM LOCAL MERCHANTS.

Recently two nomadic individuals have been canvassing this city in the interest of a suit club, representing to the people that by investing they may secure a suit for 50 cents or some other such small amount. In the first place the scheme is illegal, because it is a lottery. It is also unjust to the local merchants because they are brought into competition with people who have no capital invested here and have no interest in Redwood City, except to annex the people's money and carry it out of town. Lastly it is unprofitable to those who patronize it because only the cheapest goods are delivered. Altogether the whole transaction is harmful and should be stopped by a city ordinance.

DRUNKENNESS

is a curable disease, which requires treatment. The OBRINE treatment can be used with absolute confidence. It destroys all desire for whisky, beer, or other intoxicants. Can be given in the home. No sanitarium expense. No loss of time from work. Can be given secretly. If after a trial you fail to get any benefit from its use your money will be refunded.

OBRINE is prepared in two forms: No. 1, secret treatment, a powder; OBRINE No. 2, in pill form, for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. Costs only $1.00 a box. Come in and talk over the matter with us. Ask for booklet.

Ryan's Drug Store, 203 Main street.

FULFILLS EVERY REQUIREMENT.

There is perhaps no contest for success at the November polls of wider interest or of deeper significance than that in which John E. Richards, Associate Justice of the District Court of Appeals, aspired to succeed himself in the position in which he has served with distinguished ability.

The profession of the law, both in its practice and in its administration from the bench, demands years of experience. He who lacks that experience fails in the test established by popular demand. Practical professional training in the law, mental and moral culture, honesty of purpose and a sense of human justice that is superior to every other consideration, are the attributes which an enlightened public opinion must find in every aspirant for judicial honor before it stamps with approval his plea for support.

Workman Injured.

Antonio Ponzone, a workman employed by the Redwood City Harbor Company, lost the outer portion of his left hand, including two fingers Thursday while working close to the wheels of a car. He was hurried to the Red Cross Hospital at San Mateo where he is being cared for. Ponzone will be reimbursed for his lost time through the liability insurance held by his employers.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

For Governor,
JOHN D. FREDERICKS.

THE LOGICAL CHOICE.

That Captain John D. Fredericks, the Republican nominee for Governor, will receive the united and unanimous support of his own party at the election next month can now be accepted as a certain fact. From every section of the state, the north as well as the south, he is receiving assurances of the undivided fealty of the Republicans of every class—those who toil as well as those whose capital and enterprise furnish opportunity for the employment of labor.

He should, however, and undoubtedly will receive more than this. To his candidacy should be given the support of every man and woman who believes that the various industrial elements of the state should be given the full benefit of the opportunities for material development afforded during the coming year by the great International Exposition which will serve to call the attention of the world to our vast possibilities in that line.

If California is to prosper as it should, if employment is to be provided for the vast number of people who will be attracted to our shores by the opening of the Panama Canal, as well as for those now here, there must be a complete change in the policy of the administration—there must be an end to the menace of law-making by the fatalist, the direction of the affairs of the state must be returned to sound business principles. Capital, which is the basis of those extensive business and manufacturing enterprises necessary to provide employment for the vast number of wage earners who will be led to seek our hospitable climes, must be given assurance of such just and equitable treatment as will encourage its investment. That the policies announced by Captain Fredericks, as well as the platform of the party upon which he stands, gives assurance of this, there can be no question. For this reason he should receive the united support of all interested in the business prosperity of the state—which means the employee as well as the employer, for the interests of the two are inseparable.

That Captain Fredericks claims his residence south of the Tehachapi is another strong reason why, at this time, he should receive the hearty support of the voters of the northern portion of the state. With San Francisco, the natural business center of the northern section, as the site of the great Exposition which is to make the name of California famous throughout the world, it is but just to the south that they should be given the honor of representation in the office of Chief Executive of the state which is to act as the host of the visiting nations. We must keep away from the possibility of suggestion that this is a sectional enterprise or that in the development of this great commonwealth there is a division of sentiment. In fact, for the interests of a state of such vast and diversified extent there should be a tentatively accepted policy of rotation in representation in the most important office in the gift of its people.

Congressman E. A. Hayes is certain of election. He has little or no opposition this year. His course in Congress will be approved by the people in November when they will give him an overwhelming vote. Every Republican should put his stamp opposite his name on their ballot. He has been loyal to his party and he has merited your vote.

M. Sheehan, who is seeking the office of sheriff, is receiving enthusiastic support from all portions of the county. The people know his qualifications for the position and they are going to elect him by the largest vote ever given a candidate for office in this county. He has always been the enemy of sure-thing-men, gamblers, crooks and he will continue to be their foe when he takes charge of the sheriff's office.

Assemblyman Henry Ward Brown who has ably and honestly represented San Mateo county in the assembly for fourteen years will be elected in November by a larger vote than he has ever received before. Mr. Brown is an experienced statesman who can do more for the county than any other man. He is independent and his influence or vote cannot be controlled by any corporation or by any man or men. Mr. Brown is an able speaker and is a parliamentarian, having few equals in the state. Not only will he receive the support of the Republican party but he will receive hundreds of votes from the two other parties.

There will be an especially interesting meeting of Geo. S. Evans W. R. C. on Friday evening of next week. Members are urged to attend.

THOROUGHLY CALIFORNIAN.

Joseph R. Knowland, representative in Congress from the sixth district, Republican nominee for United States Senator, was born in Alameda forty-one years ago.

Congressman Knowland was educated in the public schools and the University of the Pacific, and through his father with his extensive business interests, preferred that he should enter commercial life, his bent from the outset was for a public career. From the very beginning of that career, when at twenty-two he was elected a to the Assembly, his progress has been steadily upward. After serving two terms in the State Assembly, he was elected to the State Senate, serving the greater part of a term, when, upon the appointment of Congressman Victor H. Metcalf to President Roosevelt's cabinet, he was elected to fill the vacancy thus created. He has been re-elected five times. His candidacy for the Senate now comes in the natural course of advancement.

Congressman Knowland is of the conscientious type of public man. He has ever held to his ideals and principles, but at the same time evincing that American spirit of fair play that permits others the same privilege without impairing neighborliness or fellowship. He is a patriotic American, and an ultra loyal Californian. In his long and unbroken career he has gained an intimate knowledge of California's needs. He is a man of wide acquaintance, being interested in all things that are of importance to his state and coast. He is the president of the California Landmarks League, for one thing.

He has served every section of his native State, and has come to be known as "California's Champion in Congress," has aided river and harbor projects in all sections of the State, from San Diego to Humboldt bay; fought for the protection of the great industries of his State; was a leader in the fight for the Panama-Pacific Exposition; fought for free trade for American ships; consistently advocated the upbuilding of the American merchant marine; actively supported legislation aimed to eradicate the white slave traffic; has always championed the cause of equal rights for women; advocated an adequate army and navy in the interest of peace; stands upon the Republican platform and upon his public record.

CONSIDERS DUTY'S CALL FIRST.

The important work before Congress has made it impossible for Congressman Hayes to return to California, and he wishes his constituents to know that his failure to visit them is caused by no lack of desire on his part to do so. He deeply appreciates the loyal support his friends gave him in the primary and are giving him in this election, but he cannot leave Washington while Congress is considering matters of vital importance to California interests. The Revenue Bill, which carries provisions laying unusual burdens on certain California industries, has not yet been finally agreed upon, and until Congressmen Hayes has done all in his power to lighten this burden on his constituents, he feels it necessary to remain at his post. He has had a large part in reducing the proposed tax on grape growers and others affected by the Revenue Bill, but he will not relax his efforts until the last thing possible has been accomplished.

The long service of Congressman Hayes in the House of Representatives and the influence this service gives him enables him to serve his constituents more effectively than any new man, however able, could serve them. In addition to this he is industrious and diligent in his public work, and his constituents may be certain that he will do for them all that can be done. It might not be out of place to remind the voters of the Eighth district that if the party with which Mr. Hayes is affiliated should be in the majority in the next Congress, the seniority and influence which this long service would give Mr. Hayes would make him one of the majority in the next Congress, and would give him a large voice in shaping the legislation of the nation. He would thus be able to serve both the nation at large and his own district as well more profitably than ever before.

Death a Peaceful Visitor.

Sarah Frances Penton Sanborn, who died on the 12th inst., at the home of her son, Curran Clark, was a woman too little known, owing to her retiring disposition.

Hers was a rarely discriminating mind—exact of herself in all things, she yet had no word "or" thought but of sympathy and kindness for others. An author and writer for the Eastern papers and periodicals of a generation ago, a deep student of literature and the classics, her entire life was a perpetual influence for the right. She was pre-eminently a Christian of the highest type.

The following lines written by her at the age of 92 years, three months before she died, were prophetic if not true.

TO THE STARELY PINE.
The stately pine from my window I see
Rejoicing in power to have, and to be.
The countless winged birdlings safe
Shelter and home
When winds and storms of Autumn
Shall come.
Oh, pine! thou starest stately,
As still thy friend and true
When my eyes no longer can see
Thy branches waving in glad
Thy branches so graceful and strong,
To protect from trouble or danger,
Or wrong.
Oh, thou lofty pine tree!
Who searchest to me,
As from my couch thy waving branches
Shall come.
Will thou be always as tender and true
As on this lovely morn of July?
Will thou be as gentle and true
When I lie
Dreading, not fearing, the time to die,
For Thou, my Father in Heaven,
Dost promise me aid.
When the Valley of Death doth call me:
I will in Thy promise abide,
That Thou wilt then walk by my side.
Hillview, July 15, 1914.

NEWS GATHERED FROM THE COUNTY

Interesting Notes Picked Up By Hustling Reporters in the Country Districts

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO.

At the last meeting of the city council plans for the new public library building were adopted. Notice was also received from the Carnegie Corporation that as soon as deeds to the building site had been recorded, payments would be made on account of the cost of construction of the building.

Tippecanoe Social Club, an organization composed of members of the local Tribe of the Improved Order of Red Men, have announced a ball to be given in Metropolitan hall on the evening of October 24th.

Friends of Michael Sheehan in this city are making an active campaign for his election to the office of Sheriff. Residents in this section admire the splendid record Mr. Sheehan has made as constable of the Second township and it is generally admitted that he will carry this end of the county by a handsome majority.

The city council has accepted the new sanitary sewer system and adopted an ordinance requiring all places on the line of the sewer to make connections.

SAN BRUNO NOTES.

A number of improvements are being made to the interior of the residence of Mrs. Benjamin in Lomita Park.

The family of Mr. Fahy, of the firm of Fahy & Lauer, are now occupying the Lowe house in Lomita Park.

Mr. McCabe, who has been conducting a shoe repairing shop on San Mateo avenue, has closed out the business and taken a position with Wells, Fargo & Co.

The Ladies Aid Society of the San Bruno Methodist church has elected officers for the year as follows: Mrs. Thos. Foster president, Mrs. Gus Walsh first vice president, Mrs. Reynolds of Lomita Park second vice president, Mrs. Everts secretary, Miss Burr treasurer.

As the campaign goes on the election of Michael Sheehan to the office of Sheriff seems assured, at least so far as the voters of this end of the county are concerned. It is admitted on all sides that Mr. Sheehan possesses every qualification for the office and that his election will assure the police protection for which this place is suffering.

George Debenedetti suffered a severe loss as the result of a visit from night prowlers last week, when a burglar entered his store and purloined a considerable amount of jewelry, most of which was valued as keepsakes. Debenedetti estimates the actual amount of his loss at about $375.

SAN MATEO AND BURLINGAME.

On Friday afternoon of this week a splendid reception was given by the Republican women voters of Burlingame to Mrs. John D. Fredericks and Mrs. J. R. Knowland, wives of the Republican candidates for Governor and United States Senator. The reception was held at the club house of the Burlingame Woman's Club and was largely attended, attracting many visitors prominent among the women organizations of this section. Among the prominent speakers of the afternoon were Mrs. Aylett R. Cotton, president of the California Women's organizations, Florence Richmond, president of the Burlingame Club, and Mrs. R. C. Young, president of the Women's Republican League.

Mrs. C. H. Godfrey has been appointed by Mayor Moores of Burlingame as a member of the Park Commission of that city.

WOODSIDE NOTES

M. Sheehan, candidate for sheriff will receive an almost unanimous vote at Woodside. He was here during the week calling on the voters and made a splendid impression. The people know his qualifications for the office and they are going to elect him.

All the hunters who went out to the haunts of quail on Thursday, the opening of the season, returned with good bags of game. The birds are fat and in splendid condition. Hunters report that quail are numerous at the Canyada.

Mr. and Mrs. Myrestein have closed their home for the winter and have gone to the city.

FROM THE COAST SIDE.

Joseph Fernandes, who recently purchased the Seymour residence, is having a number of improvements made to the house, which will be entirely renovated.

Rev. Geo. Cona, who for the past year has been pastor of the Halfmoon Bay Methodist church, has been appointed to the charge of the church at McCloud and has left with his family for that place. The term of Mr. Cona's pastorate here was a most successful one.

Mrs. A. S. Hatch has returned to her home at Halfmoon Bay after an extended visit with relatives at South San Francisco.

John Cunha of Halfmoon Bay, who recently purchased the McMune ranch of 375 acres, is making preparations to plant the greater portion of the place to potatoes next spring.

William Clark, brother of Mrs. Lizzie Knapp of Halfmoon Bay, died in San Francisco Monday, at the age of 76. The funeral was held Thursday morning in San Francisco.

PESCADERO CORRESPONDENCE.

The sheriff's contest is the all absorbing topic of conversation here. M. Sheehan, the fearless constable of San Mateo who is a candidate for that office, is the only name mentioned. It looks as though his majority in Pescadero would be very large. It is believed he will get more than double the votes of Mansfield. There is scarcely a Mansfield man to be seen in town.

Dr. Blackburn is making an aggressive canvass for re-election. No one doubts that he will be chosen again to represent the Fifth township on the board of supervisors. He has made a splendid official and the people are going to re-elect him.

Dr. C. V. Thompson, one of our candidates for supervisor, had an attack of appendicitis last week and was taken to Lane hospital, San Francisco, and there operated upon.

C. H. Widemann was here this week for a couple of days.

Dr. Lewis of San Francisco is here in Dr. Thompson's place until the latter can return to his practice.

Interesting High School Debate.

Inaugurating a new plan, which should prove attractive both to students and parents, Sequoia Union high school on Wednesday evening gave the first of a series of inter-class debates which it is the intention of the faculty of the school to continue at intervals of a few weeks during the coming winter months. While the attendance at the opening debate was not as large as it should have been, it was, nevertheless, encouraging.

Those who were present were certainly treated to a splendid literary entertainment, the participants in the debate evincing considerable ability as speakers and developing an astonishing familiarity with a subject which, while attracting much attention, is seemingly but little understood by the general public.

The question presented for discussion was: "Resolved, that labor unions are justified in insisting by all lawful means on the closed shop," the affirmative being sustained by the Junior class, represented by Thelma Knox and Marie McAuliffe, while the negative was argued by Robert O'Connell and Charles McNeill of the Senior class. Each of the contestants developed a rather astonishing knowledge of the scope of the subject treated, the arguments in each case being logical and well delivered. While the committee of judges, composed of Archer Kincaid, C. M. Doozee and J. E. Harris, awarded the honors to the young ladies of the junior class, the decision, which was on points, was reached by a decidedly small margin.

Grocery Storehouse Burned.

A fierce fire early Tuesday evening destroyed the storehouse at the rear of P. P. Chamberlain's store, causing a loss of about $2000.

The storehouse was practically destroyed as well as the stock of goods, but the work of the department was effective in preventing the spreading of the fire to other buildings close by.

The cause of the fire is not definitely known. It is believed that it started from a cigarette or cigar carelessly left in the toilet, or by sparks from a rubbish fire near by. Mr. Chamberlain closed and locked the building shortly after 6 o'clock and shortly afterwards the blaze was discovered.

The adjuster for the Home Fire Insurance Co. of New York was here on Thursday and made a thorough investigation. He will probably report on the loss to Mr. Chamberlain today. The loss will reach $2000. This is partially covered by insurance.

A Scurrilous Attack.

The Chaparral, a monthly paper published at Stanford, contained the following scurrilous article in the October number concerning Redwood City girls:

"News that indecent—er-rather—progressive dancing holds rule sway on the campus, Chapple picks a good seat among the on-looking roughs and makes a few remarks.

"Chapple is strong for the new dances. He agrees with the women's conference that civilization has forced them upon us. (See illustration on page one for proof.) If the students want the newly established progressive dancing, let them have it by all means. Why let Redwood get all the students' spare cash? Patronize home dancing industry. And, furthermore, it is more respectable for a student to rag—er—rather—one step with a pretty co-ed at Stanford than to one-step—er—rather—rag with a home-laudress at Redwood. Who will deny that? On with the aggressive dance, says Chapple, 'let joy be unrefined.'"

HAPPY LA HONDA

La Honda, Oct. 14.—Fred Throckmorton and Ernest Leiter of San Francisco spent a couple of days here this week. The former is a master fisherman and experienced hunter. He proudly took home the limit of trout and the limit bag of rabbits. How the fur flew. Unfortunately Mr. Leiter's expensive and beautiful gun became jammed, thus preventing him helping Mr. Throckmorton in the slaughter of the rabbits. In the latter's place, looking down from the walls, are a dozen deer heads, won in the chase at La Honda. Mr. Throckmorton looked with envy upon the trophies and is coming here during the deer season to shoot one of these stuffed heads.

COLUMBIA INFORMATION
COLUMBIA, October 14.—Governor Hiram Johnson favored this locality with a call at Daly City, last Saturday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Considering the hour a large number was present to receive him. He was listened to with eager attention. What he had to say had the ring of truth and was convincing. If there is anyone in the county who thinks that Governor Johnson's popularity has waned, he should erase his calculations and figure it out once more.

Last Monday, Columbus Day, was a holiday in the Jefferson District. The weather turned out to be so delightful that both teachers and pupils enjoyed it to the fullest extent, a large number going to the beaches.

The Native Sons of El Carmelo Parlor, No. 256, held an important meeting last Monday evening. It was the occasion of the visit of the Past Presidents' drill team, and a large number of their sponsors. Never before, perhaps, was there such a fine gathering of earnest and able Native Sons in this town. Their visit had certainly an awakening effect upon the members of El Carmelo Parlor. While the ritualistic work was being most beautifully exemplified the interest was so great you could hear a fly upon the wing. Peter Callan, the president of our parlor was particularly happy over it all. He saw as a result, great success for his parlor. Numerous good speeches were made.

Miss Foley, one of our popular teachers, was absent from her post of duty for a couple of days this week on account of illness. Don't forget the Druids' grand ball on the 24th. It is sure to be a good time.

WHAT ANNIE LAURIE THINKS OF SAN MATEO COUNTY
Annie Laurie, the world famous newspaper writer, whose work has endeared her to millions, heard of the beauties of San Mateo county; and realizing that beauty is a joy forever, got into communication with the San Mateo County Development Association, and as a result, a personally conducted auto tour through the county with the famous writer as the chief guest and the development organization's secretary as the director, took place last week. Here are some impressions and beliefs about this community, which she expressed on her trip:

"San Mateo county will have a population of fully 100,000 within the next ten years.

"The people of San Francisco have yet to appreciate the wonderful roads and country which lie at their doorstep.

"I have traveled all over the world, and in all my travels I have never seen a more beautiful country than that possessed by San Mateo county.

"The marvelous thing of this marvelous San Mateo county is the fact that it is situated almost in the heart of a great city. The usual scenic grandeur are in a faraway and almost inaccessible locality.

"Another great feature of San Mateo county, aside from its delightful climate, is its extremes in scenery. It is certainly going some to have the eye leave the ocean and almost immediately perceive giant redwoods."

The Annie Laurie party encircled the sister cities of San Mateo, Burlingame and Hillsborough and took in the principal points of interest there. The car proceeded over the Belmont road to the coastside. At Halfmoon Bay Supervisor Jos. M. Francis and Dr. C. L. Morgan of the San Mateo county P. E. Commission, joined the party. The Portola monument was visited. The coastside boulevard, now in course of construction, was inspected. The car then encircled the county, taking in the giant redwoods at La Honda. The party went from Woodside to Menlo Park and Atherton and then made the return trip over the Middlefield road through Redwood City.

Pushing Work on New Factory.

A year and a half ago local interest was aroused to a high pitch by the report that a magnesia factory was about to be established in the Eastern Addition, close to the railroad company's Dumbarton line. The land—ten acres—was actually purchased, buildings erected, a spurtrack constructed to the grounds and a lot of costly machinery installed. Then for some reason not made public, work on the plant came to a stop and since, excepting the presence of a watchman, there has been no evidence of activity at the proposed factory site.

The names of the owners were not divulged, but it is understood that the plant is owned by the National Magnesia and Supply Company, a wealthy San Francisco corporation, and that the output of the factory will be a magnesia product which has countless uses.

Within the past two weeks a remarkable change has taken place at the plant. A force of mechanics in charge of Caldwell & Wisnom of San Mateo is engaged in erecting a number of substantial buildings on the ground, the largest of which will occupy a space of 100x100 feet. This structure with the lesser buildings will cover three acres.

A force of machinists is at work overhauling the engine and boilers and installing new machinery which is arriving from the East. The plant will be operated by 500 steam horsepower and 200 electric horsepower.

One day this week a reporter visited the factory site and found the general manager, Brtrand B. Grunwald, busy with his force of mechanics in the work of construction. He received the reporter with courtesy and permitted an inspection of the plant, giving out some information but carefully refraining from a disclosure of the nature of the material it is proposed to manufacture.

"In a few weeks," he said, "we will be ready to make known our plans. At present, and for very good reasons we prefer not to disclose our business."

"When we start our plant we will employ about fifty skilled workmen, and running at full capacity we will need at least one hundred men. We expect to be running in full capacity by January 1st."

A short distance from the main building is the office of the plant in which is a complete chemical outfit. This department will be in charge of Mr. Grunwald, who, it is understood, is the inventor of the product that is to be manufactured.

ZIMMERMAN DENIES THE ALLEGATIONS OF HIS WIFE
Denying that he had been cruel to his wife on numerous occasions and that she once found him in a compromising position with "another woman" in the back of Hart's theatre in San Mateo, Thomas E. Zimmerman of this city has filed an answer to the divorce suit brought by Mrs. Adeline M. Zimmerman, the answer which was filed in the Superior Court by Zimmerman's attorney, Joseph J. Bullock, flatly denies each and every allegation in the wife's complaint.

Zimmerman denies that he called his wife opprobrious names; that he is making as much money as his wife asserts; and that "upon one of his occasions in the back of Hart's theatre at San Mateo, or any other place, plaintiff found or saw defendant and a woman in a compromising position." Zimmerman declares in his answer that he "was giving giving said woman a drink of water."

Mrs. Zimmerman was formerly Miss Adeline Demartini of Redwood City. Her attorney is Archer Kincaid.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational church entertained at a pleasant afternoon affair in the church parlors on Wednesday. Several beautiful vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. C. H. Stevens and Miss Maude Moore. Mrs. Bentley being the accompanist. Light refreshments were served and an hour's chat followed the program. More than a score of ladies were present.

To Please the Palate is our aim in serving meat—to retain the fine flavor Nature bestows, not to let it go to waste, as some meatshops do. With prolonging this true taste, it may be set down for a fact that here is to be found a first-class place to purchase beef, mutton, lamb, ham, poultry and game, to give your table good credit with household and guest.

HOBSON, NAVAL HERO, FIGHTING J. BARLEYCORN

Richard Pearson Hobson, naval hero of the Spanish war, present congressman—from his native state of Alabama, delivered an address Wednesday noon from the steps of the courthouse in support of the abolition of the liquor traffic.

Hobson is the man who as a tall, dashing young naval officer planned and volunteered himself to take an old steamer right under the Spanish forts and then sink her in the channel of the harbor of Santiago de Cuba, in order to bottle up the fleet of the Spanish war vessels that was hiding within the inner harbor behind some high and fortified hills.

He did his part, with a few subordinate volunteers, sank the ship, got into a small boat and pulled away to sea and safely through a hail of missiles. That the current slightly deflected the block so that it did not effectively block the channel did not detract in the least from the daring and valor of Hobson's act.

Hobson is an able and convincing speaker. He had a large and appreciative audience.

BULLOCK EMPLOYED TO DEFEND DAMAGE SUITS

Through their attorney, Joseph J. Bullock, Contractors A. Hess and C. C. Benson have filed demurrers to the damage suits brought by Roy V. Sheldon of San Francisco, by Geo. H. Dyer, his guardian ad litem, and Mrs. and Mrs. Jules H. Kraus of San Mateo.

Young Sheldon's mother was killed and Mrs. Kraus was injured in an automobile accident on the Belmont road. Suits for damages were brought on the grounds that Contractors Hess and Benson left the roadway in an unsafe condition.

The demurrers allege that the complaints for damages do not state facts sufficient to constitute causes of action and that the complaints are ambiguous.

BOGUS CHECK-PASSER HELD FOR TRIAL

Charles Fleming, arrested for trying to pass a bogus check in San Mateo September 23d, was held to answer to the Superior Court at a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Joseph A. McCormick of San Mateo Tuesday morning.

The check was made out for $27.50 and was on the National Bank of San Mateo. It was made payable to "J. Hanson" and was signed by "Henry Benn." Fleming tried to cash the check with Peter Thorsen and Ben Race. The police were notified, the check found fraudulent and Fleming was jailed.

Gray-Thorning's New Headquarters.

The Gray-Thorning Lumber Company will shortly move its lumber yards from Spruce street to the corner of El Camino Real and Redwood avenue, a distance of two blocks. At the new location the company owns one and one-half acres of land which it will use for its yard. The company has also erected on El Camino Real, a fine large building of stucco finish, well lighted and having a floor space of 40x80 feet. The interior will be finished in curly redwood. The new building will house the company's business department and will also serve as a store for a complete line of builders' material.

Azavedo Held for Trial.

Mangel Azavedo, who stabbed John Piegis in the neck during a quarrel on the night of the 4th instant, was yesterday held to appear for trial in the Superior Court by Justice Lamplin on a charge of assault to commit murder. Azavedo's bail was placed at $500, which he was unable to secure and he was sent to jail.

Born in San Francisco, October 4th, to the wife of Louis DeLaney (Luella McCarthy) of San Carlos, a son.

Mrs. Robert J. Albert has returned home after a pleasant visit to Los Angeles, Arizona and as far south as Mexico.

A card party will be given at the Woman's Club Tuesday evening. Mrs. Cummings and Mrs. Cooper will be hostesses. The public is invited and an enjoyable evening is promised.

Mr. and Mrs. William Couch of Palo Alto will be at the Baptist church next Sunday afternoon to assist in the singing. They will also render special music. The pastor will preach. Services will begin at 3:30. Everybody is invited.

Hull Bros. have a supply of copies of the State Game Law which they will give away to interested applicants.
